SUBJECT GOLDEN GATE BRIDGE MOTORISTS TO VEHICLE CODE

Detailed Speed, Emergency, Regulations Insure Efficiency

Motorists traveling the Golden Gate Bridge are subject to provisions of the Vehicle Code, which apply to the bridge the same as to any other section of highway, and also to several special rules for its use. A summary of traffic regulations on the bridge follows:

All vehicles passing the entrance signs become liable for tolls.

(Two ten foot sidewalks are provided for pedestrian use of the bridge. Pedestrians must use the sidewalks only and cannot cross the roadway. An underpass is provided at the Marin anchorage.)

For motor vehicles six lanes are provided, three in each direction.

Maximum speed regulations set up in the Vehicle Code apply to bridge traffic.

SLOW VEHICLES

Slow vehicles must keep to the extreme right. Bridge rules draw special attention to provisions of the Vehicle Code prohibiting operation of any vehicle at a speed so slow as to impede reasonable movement of traffic. Bridge rules also emphasize the necessity of proper signaling.

All vehicles are prohibited from crossing the center line stripe where indicated by reflector markers.

U turns are not allowed except under the direction of a uniformed patrolman or bridge employe.

Tire changes and repairs are permitted only when authorized by a member of the California Highway Patrol and done in his presence.

Co-operation Brings Fiesta Success

All Daly City girls who participated in the recent Golden Gate Bridge Fiesta queenship contest have expressed great appreciation for the co-operation of local merchants in making possible such a gala celebration.

Through the efforts of the local merchants Daly City staged one of the most active and colorful community fiestas held in conjunction with the main Golden Gate Bridge celebration.

The Cut Rate Market twice donated services of one of its trucks to make the many festivities planned for the girls more accessible. Dressed in a variety of spectacular costumes, the queen candidates were carried by the Cut Rate truck in the vast military parade in San Francisco, Monday morning of this week. On Tuesday evening of this week the Cut Rate truck chauffered the queens to the military ball held in the Civic Auditorium for all enlisted men.

Ed Schwerin of McLaren Park Ranch gave valuable co-operation to the Daly City Fiesta in the loan of horses for parades in San Francisco and Daly City.

Gray Line Busses donated a fine, modern bus to carry the queen candidates to the wedding of their fiesta secretary on the Golden Gate Bridge at one minute past midnight Monday evening.

Henry Warshawski purchased a theater ticket from each entry, thereby spurring the enthusiasm and confidence of each girl. He also conducted a double script day for them.

CHARTER AMENDMENT ELECTION DATE SET JUNE 22 BY BOARD OF SUPERVISORS FOR COUNTY

Appoint Rolison To New Post Following Resignation Of Kellogg

The Board of Supervisors, Wednesday of this week, appointed Ernest A. Rolison to the county executive post, then set June 22 as the date of the special election of the charter amendments.

Installation of Rolison, former city manager of Redwood City, in the key position of county government was carried out without a hitch. First the board accepted the voluntary resignation of Executive Walter T. Kellogg. The resignation was accepted with the wellwishes of the supervisors and his successor.

Without a dissenting vote, the board agreed to carry out the mandate of Superior Judge Maxwell McNutt that a special election be held on the proposal to alter the charter.

The board formerly rescinded its action of May 12, when it called off the June 22 election upon the advise of the district attorney, who questioned legality of the procedure for electing the county officials if the amendments were adopted.

AMENDMENTS UP

As a result the county electorate will visit the polls in less than three weeks hence to vote on:

1. A series of amendments to the charter which would make the appointive offices of executive, engineer, coroner, tax collector, treasurer and recorder elective.

Distinguished By Gradual Meter

Opportunity to commemorate a man whose name everybody knows seems to have been widely missed, but the New York Times happily reminds us that he was born May 14, 250 years ago.

In youth, it appears, he was apprenticed to trade. Commerce throve along the shores of the Baltic, and many Danzig youths, now long forgotten, grew up to be merchants. Natural science interested him more, and he left the home town for other cities in Germany, Holland and England where he could study physics.

His name was Daniel Gabriel Fahrenheit. Newton himself, less successful in this matter than in explaining why an apple falls down when it comes off a tree, had made a kind of a thermometer, using linseed oil in a tube. Galileo is credited with inventing the thermometer, nearly a century earlier, having made something that did well as a first invention, but was not so successful as a thermometer. It was for Fahrenheit to discover a way of purifying mercury so that it would behave properly in the now familiar glass tube. About 1714 he made the first dependably accurate thermometer.

C, as one knows, has something to say about temperature; but F was a man, and C is nobody, a mere adverb meaning centigrade. Like the weather, Daniel Gabriel Fahrenheit is a perpetual contemporary, which explains why so few have considered it necessary to commemorate him.

Interesting information comes from Nome that tin has been mined during the year and a shipment of 150 tons of ore made to a smelter by the American Tin Fields, Inc.

William Merritt is field manager of the property, which is on Cape Creek, within a few miles of Cape Prince Wales, and called Tin City, Alaska.

All the equipment was not completely installed until about the middle of July, and since then work progressed until the freeze-up.

The company has been operating six trucks, one gas shovel and crushers, sluice boxes, rockers, etc., and has been increasing its production steadily.

Merritt says that this is the only tin ore mined on the North American Continent, a mineral which the United States has been sadly in need of for many years, and one which it has always been forced to import.

PLUG BROKEN

Several thousand gallons of water went to waste, early, Wednesday of this week, when a fire hydrant at Winchester and Acton streets was broken, apparently by an auto. A geyser shot more than 25 feet into the air. Police reported finding no trace of a damaged car.

JUST LOVELY

She was giving an order to the grocer.

"And I require some cheese," she said.

"Yes, miss," replied the grocer, smiling amiably; "I have some lovely cheese."

"You should not say 'lovely cheese'!" said the customer severely.

"But, why not, miss? It is lovely cheese!"

"Because"—she tried to combine maidenly modesty with an air of learning—"because lovely should only be used to qualify something that is alive."

The grocer's smile broadened as he glanced at the Gorgonzola.

"Well, miss," he said, "I'll stick to 'lovely'!"—Boston Transcript.

ONE STEP AHEAD

Bridget had just started on her duties as housemaid, and on the very first day she came up to her new employer.

"Please, mum," she said, "would yez moind givin' me a recommendation?"

"A recommendation, Bridget!" exclaimed the mistress, with a look of alarm. "Why, you have only just come!"

"Yes, mum," admitted Bridget, "but you might not be wantin' to give me one when Oi'm lavin', mum."—Tit-Bits.

REWARD OF GREATNESS

In a city office the following encouraging notice to ambitious young employes is on view: "Work hard for eight hours a day and don't worry; then in time you may become a boss and work 18 hours a day and have all the worry."—Montreal Daily Herald.

EVIDENCE OF FISH

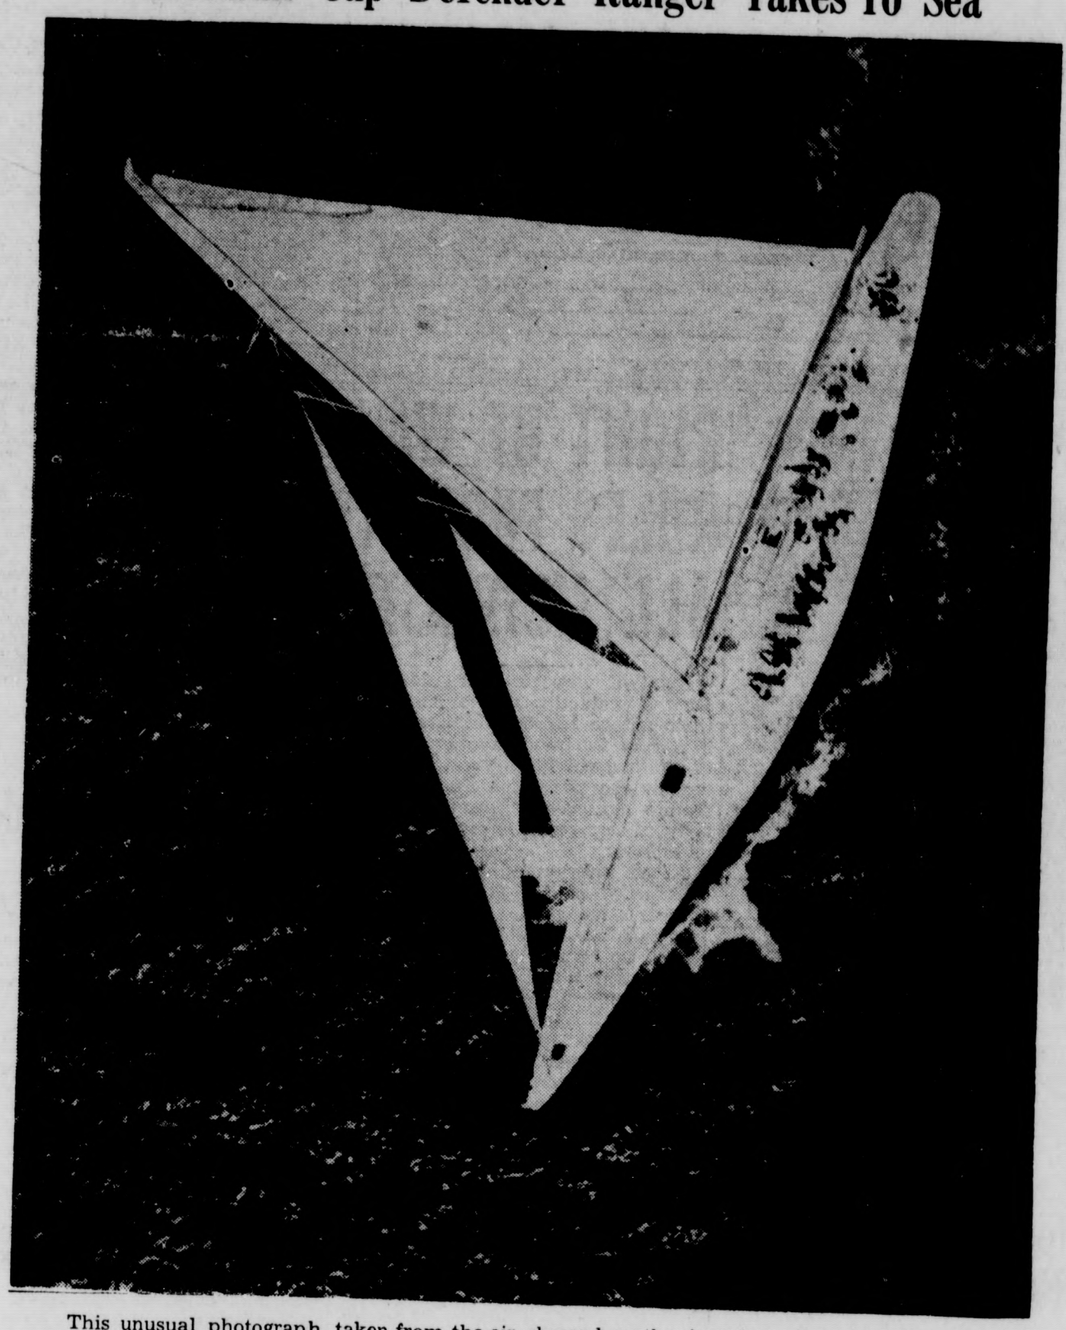
Father and son were enjoying an afternoon in the country.

"Just fancy, William," said the father, pointing around him, "at one time these fields were covered by the sea, and fish were swimming about on the very spot where we stand."

"Yes, papa," said little William, suddenly stooping. "Look, here's an empty salmon tin!"—Atlanta Two Bells.

American Cup Defender Ranger Takes To Sea



This unusual photograph, taken from the air, shows how the American Cup defender "Ranger" appeared during her first trial run. The yacht, owned by Harold Vanderbilt, will meet T. O. P. Sopwith's challenger "Endeavour II" this summer. Sopwith picked up the reins left by the late Sir Thomas Lipton, who tried unsuccessfully for years to win the cup.

ROUGH STUFF

Some of our novelists seem not to care what they do with their characters' eyes. For instance:

"Her eyes roamed carelessly round the room."

"With her eyes she riveted him to the spot."

"He tore his eyes from her face and they fell on the letter at her feet."

"Their eyes met for a long, breathless moment, and swam together."

"Marjory would often take her eyes from the deck and cast them far out to sea."—Lewisham and Catford Guide.

Heyday Next Week For Shadow Chasers

Those scientists whose business it is to chase shadows are on the go again this week. They are setting up camp on some remote islands of the South Pacific, where the coming eclipse of the sun will throw the moon's shadow most concentratedly.

The phenomenon is to happen June 8, and it will be the longest eclipse of modern times, lasting seven and a half minutes at the point of totality. The prolonged duration is due to the fact that the moon will be at its minimum distance from the earth, and the earth at its maximum distance from the sun.

It is hoped that the shadow chasing scientists will have better luck than they did with the eclipse last year. They went then to far Siberia, eleven foreign astronomical expeditions in all, and after months of preparation were all set with their cameras and other paraphernalia with which they hoped to find new spectrum lines in the solar corona and such. What happened? Well, it rained in Siberia on the day of the eclipse—there were clouds and the scientists saw nothing.

College Trackmen Win Third Title

San Mateo Junior College trackmen recently won their third Pacific Association title in the meet at San Jose State College when the Mateans scored 34 points while San Jose was second with 33. Fifteen college teams were point winners in the meet, which saw ten records fall, four to the Mateans in the shot put, 5000 meter run, the 880 and the 220 dashes.

The junior college awarded 117 letter emblems to its athletes who competed in the sports during the spring semester.

RIGHT OF WAY RULES PROTECT ALL MOTORISTS

Right of way rules are designed for the protection of motorists, yet their failure to observe these rules is one of the most frequent causes of traffic accidents. A statement today by the California State Automobile Association summarized the right of way rules, as stated by law, as follows:

At an intersection, right of way must be yielded to any car already in the intersection. The driver on the right has the right of way only when two cars enter an intersection at the same time.

When making left turns, the driver must give a hand signal continuously for the last fifty feet before turning. If approaching cars are far enough away to avoid danger of collision, the driver may then turn and have the legal right of way. If approaching cars are too close, however, he must yield the right of way to oncoming vehicles. Having so yielded he may then proceed to turn and approaching traffic must then yield to him.

When entering an arterial or through highway the driver must first stop, then proceed, as in the case of the left turn, only when approaching cars are far enough away to offer no danger of collision. But after having yielded to immediately approaching traffic, the entering driver has the right of way. Cars in an intersection have the right of way over approaching cars.

Drivers entering public highways from private roads or driveways have no right of way, but must wait until they can proceed safely.

Drivers must pull over to the right as far as possible and stop upon hearing the siren of a police car, ambulance, or fire apparatus.

Except at pedestrian tunnels or overhead crossings, motorists must yield right of way to pedestrians crossing any roadway within any marked crosswalk or unmarked crosswalk at the end of a block. Although "jaywalkers" do not have the right of way, motorists must nevertheless use caution for the safety of such pedestrians.

Opening Set For Feather River Road

August 21 is the date set for the opening of the spectacular new Feather River highway, which cost $10,000,000.

The steep sides of Feather River Canyon had to be blasted and tunneled to make way for the route, which is 78 miles long and connects Oroville and Quincy.

FIGHT FOR FREEDOM IS GAINING HEADWAY

By J. W. MARCHBANK
Pioneer in Frontier Mining Work

One of the wisest things ever uttered by Stanley Baldwin, former Premier over in England, was to the effect that democracy is the most difficult form of government ever devised and that it is the only form of government in which every citizen can think and does think for himself.

The gist of the thought is that we must make an effort to attain that most desirable kind of government. President Roosevelt has a full realization of the truth. Every move at Washington indicates he thoroughly understands democracy must be preserved at all cost.

We can join the editor of the Manchester Guardian in saying:

"We have no cause to boast of our democracy unless it insures PEACE and SOCIAL JUSTICE, and they do not come unsought."

On the recent return from Europe of Norman H. Davis, United States Ambassador-at-Large, he made an especially significant remark. He declared that economic disarmament is necessary before there can be any hope of a general world discussion of the limitation of military armaments.

He stated a general conference on disarmament is not in the picture just now.

All Europe is interested in the plan of Secretary of State Cordell Hull to level trade barriers by negotiating reciprocal trade barriers.

In part Mr. Davis said:

"There is a general feeling that something must be done to open channels of trade and stop stifling the economic life of the world.

"If there is to be financial or political stabilization we must let the nations trade with each other. The political tension in Europe is apparently improving. They are not afraid of war now. There is pressure everywhere to give more freedom to economic forces."

There are few dissenters when education is offered as one of the principal forces in modern life to bring about enduring advance. In a prefatory note to his book, "American Education," Dr. James Rowland Angell, who recently retired as president of Yale University, says:

"I am temperamentally an optimist, and socially and politically a believer in DEMOCRACY, with no faith in panaceas, whether directed to education or anything else, but with a sublime confidence in the ultimate power of the human spirit, through intelligence and character to push forward to ever higher levels."

Something new at Yale during the administration of Dr. Angell was the development of residential colleges. The establishment of the colleges, made possible through the gifts of Edward S. Harkness, of New York, marked a turning point in Yale's history.

The primary object of the residential system of training is the development of the intrinsic values of personality. The student's power of independent initiative in thought and action is brought out to the utmost. It is exactly the kind of upbringing I have often discussed in these columns.

COUNTRY CLUB CROQUETTES

(From The Farmer's Wife)

To 1 cup ground ham, add 2 cups cottage cheese. Shape into croquettes. Roll in nut meats (ground). Serve on lettuce leaf and garnish with stuffed olives and mayonnaise. This makes 1½ to 2 dozen croquettes if a rounding tablespoon is used for each.

ZWIEBACH CAKE

(From Mrs. Amelia Lewis)

1 cup Zwiebach crumbs, 1 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 2 eggs (beaten first), 1 cup chopped nuts, 1 tablespoon cold water (no more).

Mix dry ingredients first, then add eggs, flavoring and water. Mix well. Bake in moderate oven about 20 minutes. Take out of the pan while still warm. Be careful as it breaks easily. Delicious served with whipped cream.

SPINACH SALAD

(From the Farmer's Wife)

Pour ½ cup cold water in a bowl and sprinkle 1 tablespoon gelatin on top of the water. Add ½ cup hot water and stir until dissolved. Add 1 tablespoon lemon juice, ½ teaspoon salt and ¾ cup chopped, cooked spinach. Cool. Rinse a salad mold in cold water and line with 3 hard cooked eggs which have been cut in slices. Turn in the spinach mixture when it begins to thicken. Chill and when firm, unmold.

John P. Sousa Was Great Opportunist

John Philip Sousa, the great march king, once heard a hand organ playing his favorite march. "The Stars and Stripes Forever." The way in which it was being dragged from the organ disconcerted the composer. Finally he could stand it no longer. "Here, here," he called to the sleepy grinder, "that is no way to play that march!"

He seized the handle of the organ and began whirling it vigorously. The old martial spirit surged into the music. The vender of airs bowed low.

The next night sousa heard the organ again. This time the tune was crashing out in right tempo. He looked out of his window, mildly amused, but to his surprise saw that a big crowd had gathered around the fast-grinding player.

Again he went down to see what it was all about. He soon saw. Over the organ the grinder had his name printed on a large card, and under it in equally big letters had been added: "Pupil of John Philip Sousa."

RACING IN ENGLAND ATTRACTS AMERICANS

By J. W. MARCHBANK

Interest in horses sent from one country to another is n the increase. J. E. Widener has quite a number of Ameri- an bred runners in England and apparently they possess ufficient class to cut some figure in the racing over on the ther side of the Atlantic.

All of the Widener thoroughbreds were bred in Ken- ucky; most of the band are by imported Sickle, two by 'hance Shot and one by imported Royal Minstrel. Probably ne Chance Shots deserve more mention than the others mply because they carry American strains through their re. English blood should not be decried but it is easy to ee there is a greater novelty in watching the performances f at least part "Yankees" abroad than in horses having ttle, if any, American blood.

Chance Shot, as will be recalled, is by Man o'War's sire, air Play, from the imported mare Quelle Chance. One of ne Widener three year old fillies by the name of Black ashes is of more than ordinary caliber and has been nomin- ted to nearly all of the important stakes for three year olds. he is by Sickle, of the well known Ben d'Or line. Another liss, Hybrid II, by Chance Shot, has also been heavily ngaged.

Something worth noting is that the youngsters have not een over-raced. The three year old Scabbard, for example, an only three times as a two year old, winning once, under n impost of 121 pounds.

Scabbard, a good looking colt by Sickle from imported a Bayonette, is a half brother to the gelding Infantry, a 'inner of stakes in this country. He may be heard from in uch races as the three St. Legers, that at Doncaster, as well s those at Newmarket and Liverpool.

Brevity, a son of Sickle that has been put in the stud arly, may have representatives over in England when his rogeny become of racing age. An interesting angle about Brevity is that he is from the Superman mare Ormonda, 'hich, as the name indicates, is from Princess Ormonde. 'hat takes us close home as the "Princess" was by Ormon- ale, a son of the mighty Ormonde. As fans recall, Ormonde tood in his last years at San Mateo.

ood Crowd Attends Baden Opener

Feature of the opening night was ne Inaugural Cup Race, won by the opular San Mateo County dog, An- drews Pride, owned by P. J. Olmo of Colma. Another Olmo dog, Mike Andrews, was second. The Fiesta Derby was run Wednes- day night, when Miss Janice Crown of San Mateo, the San Mateo County Fiesta queen, presented the trophy.

S. M. County Float Wins First Prize

The San Mateo County elaborate float won first prize in the San Fran- cisco night parade of the Golden Gate Bridge Fiesta, it was announced this week by the county publicity di- rector.

Second prize for illuminated floats went to Lake County, with Men- docino County placing third.

Adrienne Sausset, blonde secre- tary of the district attorney sat en- throned on the county float, as it was "drawn" by streamers carried by a group of San Mateo Junior Col- lege girls.

Award First Place To County Woman

Mrs. Maxwell McNutt, wife of San Mateo County senior superior judge, this week held the coveted title of being the finest appearing horse- woman of the hundreds competing in the San Francisco Golden Gate Fiesta parade.

Her outfit in the parade was en- tirely designed by Judge McNutt.

Mrs. McNutt has won numerous cups and blue ribbons in horse show and rodeo competition.

Old Cliff House To Reopen On Pacific

One of the most famous institu- tions of San Francisco is soon to be reopened to local patrons and visit- ors of the city.

It is the famous old Cliff House, a steel and concrete structure jut- ting out into the sea on the ocean side of the San Francisco peninsula.

The original Cliff House was a huge wooden structure where San Francisco disported itself "of a Sun- day" eating "Crab Louis," drinking beer and using the old fashioned spy glasses to watch the antics of the seals on the nearby Seal Rocks.

The Cliff House was built in 1858 by Sam Brannan, who came to Cali- fornia at the behest of Brigham Young, and remained in the Golden West to become a leader. A street in San Francisco is still named after Brannan.

Burned several times during the course of its colorful life, the Cliff House finally emerged in the form in which one now sees it, having passed through several hands, in- cluding that of Adolph Sutro, pio- neer, mining man and one of the "nabobs" from which one of San Francisco famous hills, "Nob Hill" got its name.

Prohibition finally closed the fa- mous eating and drinking place and sporadic attempts since have been made to reopen it. It now is in the hands of an amusement syndicate which plans to reopen it this year.

Sacred Indian Donkeys In L. A.

Sacred donkeys from India are pictured as they recently were taken to Los Angeles by Frank ("Bring 'Em Back Alive") Buck. The equines are gray with a black stripe running along the backbone and across the shoulders. Miss Siva Phillips is shown fondling the tiny beasts, which only attain a height of 30 inches.

A Gallon Of Sand

During an ice storm, last winter, it came to me, before leaving the garage, to put a small pail of sand in the back of the car.

This proved to be wisdom; for hav- ing parked downtown, I found I could get no hold on the slippery pavement. I took a little sand, placed it in front of the wheels, and had no further trouble.—W. G., New Haven, Conn.

BLOCK WHEELS

Never remove a wheel from a car without blocking one of the other wheels to prevent movement.

If the car should move even slightly there is danger of the jack slipping and allowing the weight of the car to fall upon the brake drum and cause extensive damage.

FUN AT THE THEATER

A man with an outsize sense of humor caused a disturbance by ris- ing up in a crowded theater and ask- ing: "Is there a doctor in the house?"

There was a discomfited silence, and no one replied, so a minute later he rose up again and asked: "Is there a doctor in the house?"

A man stood up in a near-by stall and replied: "I am a doctor. Is there anything wrong?"

The humorous one countered genially: "What do you think of the show, Doc?"—Edinburgh Dispatch.

OPEN THE COWL

If your car has a ventilation system you might remember this trick for keeping the interior free from dust the next time you are driving over a dusty road:

Just open the cowl ventilator slightly in addition to the opening of the window vents. It tends to break up the vacuum inside the car which causes the dust to be pulled through the partially opened windows.

Stop Striking Matches . . .
and waiting for water to heat

Use a Modern Automatic Gas

WATER HEATER

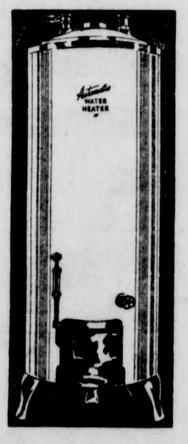
OF COURSE it isn't the mere striking of matches that makes the old-fashioned tank type of water heater such a nuisance. It is because someone always has to light the heater. It is because someone always has to wait for the water to heat. Someone has always to remember to turn off the water heater.

With an Automatic Gas water heater all this is different. You turn on hot water at the faucet. You learn to take its service for granted, a part of the modern living you enjoy. The first month of service is always a revelation; you wonder how you ever put up with any other kind of hot water service in your home.

For only an Automatic keeps an abundant supply of water stored hot ready for service at the turn of a faucet. There is no starting or stopping for anyone to remember. It is quiet, dependable, absolutely carefree. And all this for less cost per gallon of hot water than you pay for your present unsatisfactory hot water service.



Judge this automatic service of hot water in your home for yourself; go and see the new Automatic Gas water heaters on display in the nearest P. G. and E. office or at your dealer's store.

First Marriage On Bridge Staged At Midnight

Della Mae Breakie and Albert Boynton
She's Also the First June Bride.

The first marriage on the Golden Gate Bridge took place at one minute past midnight Tuesday of this week, when Miss Della Mae Breakie, Wheeling, West Virginia, became the bride of Albert H. Boynton and the first San Francisco June bride of 1937.

Judge Twain Michelson performed the ceremony on the pedestrian walk. Mayor Paul G. Selmi of Daly City gave the bride away.

Boynton is a Daly City newspaper man and business manager of the Daly City Merchants Association. Miss Breakie was secretary of the Daly City fiesta office. They met in 1934 while attending Graceland College, Lamoni, Iowa. He is 22; she is 21.

Miss Breakie had as maids of honor Miss Eleanor Price and Miss Mary McLean, both of Daly City. Kenneth F. Albertson of Chico, Calif., was best man. Flower girls were charming little Misses Birley and LaVonne Conley.

PRESENTED FLOWERS

Attorney Maurice Swim and Bill Markt, representing the Bayshore Voters League and the residents of Bayshore City, presented the bride with a lovely bouquet of yellow roses, at the close of the ceremony on the bridge. Miss Virginia Brooks, a Stanford University student and friend of the bride, caught the bridal bouquet.

In order that all queen candidates might attend the wedding of their fiesta secretary, the Gray Line Bus Company supplied a modern stage to carry them to and from the ceremony.

A brief reception for friends of the bride and groom was held in Daly City following the ceremony.
